RYAN DAY

PERSONAL STATEMENT

I am an Army veteran and an athlete seeking sponsorship opportunities from like-minded companies with whom I share goals and values in order to continue to pursue my dreams of becoming a professional table tennis player.

My time spent in the military taught me that with hard work and preparation, you can accomplish great feats. Quitting is not an option. I am highly competitive in nature and take on life's challenges with enthusiasm. Table tennis, and life in general, are not about winning or losing. I subscribe to the notion that they're instead about winning and learning.
